

Reader Feedback Organizer

How to use this sheet:

- every reader who responds back is going to tell you their opinion about your work. How to successfully attract readers is described here. Put their positive and negative feedback in the table.
- write your plans what you are going to do about this into the comment section.
- remember, you are under no obligation to use every single reader opinion. The readers can be wrong as well. Writing, as any form of art, is a subjective thing. Do not wildly pursue every reader's opinion, pick only those you yourself feel are useful. Also, do not take the criticism personally.
